Figure 1 shows a schematic diagram of a 2D lattice structure. The lattice is composed of two types of sites: 'w' (white) and 'b' (black). The 'w' sites are arranged in a regular grid, while the 'b' sites are located at the intersections of the grid lines. The lattice is bounded by a thick black line on the left and a thick black line on the right. The top and bottom boundaries are also indicated by thick black lines. The lattice is labeled with 'w' and 'b' in the top right corner.
